Re: Reference for Kohei Suzuki

To whom it may concern:

Kohei worked for us as an intern from January 7 - June 21, 2019. He approached us for the position and we were impressed with his initiative and that he made the effort to learn about us and what our needs might be.

Our company uses Deep Learning extensively in our products, and Kohei was exposed to that throughout his term. He ran models, prepared outputs for research, and wrote several tools for the analysis and evaluation of the data we use.

During his time with us, Kohei learned or gained further experience in many skills required of a machine learning engineer. These include data manipulation, data visualization, good software practices, preparing documentation, and collaborating with other developers.

Kohei is diligent about his work, writes up his requirements to confirm his understanding, and is very open to feedback about his work and deliverables. He is dedicated to his tasks and committed to doing well on them. He works well as a team member.

Kohei has made important contributions to our work. Our personnel requirements are such that we don't have a position open for him after he graduates, but we would recommend him to anyone that needs his skills.
